

Housing Sector expertise from industry leading GIS provider

GGP Systems are an industry-leading provider of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) solutions with unique knowledge and expertise in providing GIS and Web-Based Solutions to the housing sector.

GGP provides resources for accessing, storing, consolidating, displaying and analysing data. This information is then accessible and consistent so that users not only have confidence in the data but can also use it in their day-to-day lives.

GGP GIS allows you to visualise data allowing you to spot and view trends/patterns that would be hard to distinguish otherwise. For example the relationship between houses available and housing needs at a specific area or wider area, allowing you to see the overall picture.

GGP GIS can also increase efficiencies as simple queries can now be answered quickly and easily by front line staff or even by tenants themselves via our online service. In addition, GGP GIS can help streamline your procedures as site visits may be reduced as you have more information available to you (i.e photos), allowing informed decisions to be made quickly.

GGP GIS provides an intuitive and convenient tool to help the housing sector access and analyse data and provide solutions based on information they already have. GGP GIS can help turn data into knowledge as data is more easily read and viewed, enabling you to make better, more informed decisions.

Benefits

- Bring data to life
- Manage your property records more efficiently;
- Can store photographs, floor plans and other property related documents all in one easy to access location
- Gain quick access to current information—save time in answering queries
- View trends in data more easily
- Accurate—remove guesswork
- Can identify development opportunities
- Reduce site visits = reduced costs
- Enables more informed decision making

Examples of GGP GIS in use include:

- > Repair teams quickly accessing boundary ownership details
- > When tendering on a new ground maintenance contract can provide a more accurate area figure potentially lowering quotations
- > Examining the demographics of your present tenants easily and quickly
- > Can create neighbourhood profiles—demographics, types of houses etc

Why we are the best

- > Over 16 years experience in providing GIS solutions
- > Excellent customer service record
- > You have a problem we fix it!
- > Unparalleled support
- > Dedicated Personal Account Manager
- > The very best in training and development — we train the trainers!
- > Working together with you to meet your needs
- > Constantly looking at ways to improve our offering
- > We want our products to be the best and remain first choice

Please email sales@ggpsystems.co.uk or call us on 020 8686 9887 for more information